This is the pharmaceutical phyto-formulation for dosed internal use, consisting of one or more crushed components of dried substances of the plants reactive part. The average weight of the tablet phyto-formulation is 0.4 grams with the preserved (without destruction) molecular structure of biologically active substances.

The vacuum condensation method of drying at the temperature up to до 36ºC allows to use the tablet phyto-formulations of the complex chemical composition with the certain specifics of the therapeutic effect being inherent in the plants, included into the composition. The soft mode of crushing of the qualitative ecologically clean raw materials increases the productivity and energetic potential of tablet phyto-formulations.

The tablet phyto-formulations, containing only natural plant ingredients, have a beneficial effect on all the functions of the body and are the source of vitally important, natural and balanced biologically active substances. They contain all the basic components for building and functioning of all organs and systems: the rich set of vitamins, wide range of macro- and microelements, proteins, enzymes, bioflavonoids and other active ingredients. All this helps to effectively restore the functions of the immune, endocrine, nervous, cardiovascular, digestive and urinary systems.

The clinical studies have proven that the actions of the tablet phyto-formulations fundamentally differ from the impact of narrowly targeted pharmaceuti-cals by their balanced state, diversification and lack of side effects; they are physiological for the body and help the body to recover in conditions of the modern life with its adverse ecological situation, psychological tension, stresses, unbalanced and irrational nutrition.

Using the tablet phyto-formulations in the medical practice solves the issues of non-medical elimination of violations in the work of organs and systems, mobilizes detoxication and protective systems, balances the mental state, modulates the mood, and improves the quality of the life.

Lecithin complexes are the natural alternative to medications and are used as the adjunct to the food ration for preservation and recovery of the health. The role of the lecithin in the human body is extremely great. As the complicated complex of natural substances, the lecithin is involved in the functioning of every cell of the body, ensures the operation of the entire nervous system as a whole, as well as the normal functioning of the liver, cardiac muscle, endocrine and excretory systems. This is the lecithin, which plays the key role in ensuring the full functioning of the brain, in protecting the liver from fatty degeneration, and skeletal muscles, myocardium, nervous tissue from degenerative changes.

The lecithin optimizes the treatment process in case of cardiovascular diseases, gastroenterological pathology, diseases of the peripheral nervous system, including osteochondrosis, radiculitis; it corrects disorders of fat metabolism, functions of kidney nephrons. The application of the lecithin is justified in case of diseases of the female reproductive organs, including hormone-dependent tumors (fibroids, myomas, mastopathy and others).

Given the increased consumption of the lecithin in the body under stress loads, based on the constant demand of the lecithin by the body, it is advised to take lecithin complexes regularly, in long courses for prevention and adjuvant treatment of diseases.
